

The mostly plywood
and the clock is just plasma, but it'll
do for now

For a little while it'll have to be a pseudo-coffee shop
with barley tea, bucharest tea, and instant coffee

There aren't any coffee
beans around here

Ah!

Here...

Hello!

Hey

That's it!

Hi!
So that is your shop.

Oh yes!
Welcome!
The robot!

Hey.

Hey.

So you're
"Mordor"?

Heh...

You really didn't know?

Hey,
come on.

You could have told me that last time.

But I was wondering if I could come and spend some time
here...

Yep...it's normal to drop in

Thank you
It's been a while

Anyway
Come on in,
have a seat...

Heh, heh
For the moment
that I have to do

Um...
Congratulations on finishing the new shop.

My, he, he

It looks a lot cheaper than it did before, but I guess I can get my money more easily.

When it comes to my job or my kind of business...

I'm completely hopeless.

So I decided to go looking for water

There's nothing that I can do about the collared leech

But every once in a while I get the feeling that it's better to sally on without

The water from the well and water from

The old spring is very far from my house.

My old house at the end of valleys or the bottom of cliffs but...

There are closer places where water flows from the ground

They're all shadowed deep and muddy

I mopped
clear water gushing forth, but...

True but depressing

This
is just draining
all of it away

Eye reached

Clear water has accumulated in a small
concrete trough.

I wonder if they collected water like this because there isn't any spring water

I'll just have

For some years,
the large, white
object known as "Taspen" has passed above us

Those of you who take the time to look up at the sky may know about it.

Today is your chance

Those of you who have not seen it...

Well, I guess
it's just a large
type of airplane

For about six years, it has been a frequent sight in our sky.

It seems that after today it will be departing for the southern hemisphere for six years

Hmm... I guess it cycles back and forth

Fortunately,
it's a clear day
along the southern coast
of the island
today

So today...
let's see...
from noon until I see...

There's
no guarantee that it will be back

Look up to the sky

It is said that there are evil people
trapped
on board.

They might be looking down on us right now.

Good work,

Forward!

May you still be there,
six years
from now

A regular

It is a huge

delicious one

This isn't

At first I thought it was just a funny
kind of brown sugar

Okay.

The mountain road along which the "straight-line" runs

The only people who pass the way are those taking the road which runs by the flag

The trees really do grow in a line, tracing the path of the old highway

There used to be a four-masted tower here

That is

However, those trees are not the reason I was told I should come here

There are no roads
in that direction.
I've been told that
that there is no record of any construction there.

At first glance
they look like buildings -- but there are no windows
and their shape
is strangely
distorted

Wonder
if I should take over there?

Probably
take about a day

What are those white buildings up on the mountain?

Ah, those.
Those aren't buildings.

Sort of like a mushroom or cork.

They're soft.

That was years ago. Nobody's been there since.

A while back we spent a day going out to look at them.

What?

There's a kind of presence

These buildings are strong enough
but there's something else about this place

Hehehe

Go take a look. I bet you'll find it interesting

Ah I just remembered.
There's the reason of an old park over that way

Thank you.
I'll be right back

I'll give you a ride to the foot of the mountain

I'll wait for you
here.

There are a lot of ruins like this

All their remains are the path, strangely clear of grass and weeds

Along the way,
I saw several things which look like small piles of limestone.

Although now overgrown, this place still has the feel of the hillside park it once was.

In the valley below, a gentle river and reforested forest shine in the light of the setting sun.

This must have been a pretty park in the past.

There are buildings in the town which resemble the ones
on the mountain.

That white
mound...

A mountain —
No, a mountain!

That shape is

THE CAFFEINATED MIND

There's definitely something wrong with these piped walls
I made.

It's been getting terribly bored inside lately, so the alternative was...

When I tried
taking them off,
the wind rushed
in with a roar.
The atmosphere
inside changed in an instant.

Well, I had an open-air shop last summer.

I should be used to it by now.

Somewhere I've finally managed to get the walls looking like walls again, but...

I'm suddenly feeling inspired to just pull them back down

A deep small drifts in on the breeze

Mr customers
leave the light off
and sit together quietly giving nude.

Presently
a light rain
began to fall.

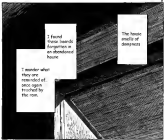

I found
these insect dispensers in an abandoned
house

The family made of dispensers

I wonder what they are reminded of...
once again
brushed by the rain,

Do they remember the life they led in the house I took them from?

They smell of a stronger home

There isn't much water
near here

Still somewhere a lone frog is staying

Should I not just say
"have a nice trip!"
and wave goodbye?

I guess I'll have to open my sleep again this year!
